Your Itinerary in Detail

Starting from the national capital that has a history older than the Mahabharata, this route takes you to one of the world's seven wonders, the Taj Mahal, and to Varanasi, one of the most sacred cities of India. Mathura, the birthplace of Lord Krishna is on the way back. So get ready for a lesson on India's cultural heritage, this time told through the eyes of the road.

Day 1 Arrive in New Delhi

Day 2 New Delhi

 Hotel Tavisha Hotel Or Similar

 Explore the city of New Delhi in a chauffeur-driven car.

After breakfast, you will be picked up from your hotel in a chauffeur-driven car for a city tour of New Delhi. Discover South Delhi, known for attractions like the National Museum, housing artefacts from as far back as the Harappan Civilisation; Humayun's Tomb - one of the pinnacles of Mughal architecture; and the Hazrat Nizamuddin Auliya Dargah, burial ground for the Sufi saint Nizamuddin Auliya. If you happen to visit the Dargah on a Thursday evening, make sure to attend the qawali sessions that musicians hold fervently here. Further Southwards, visit the serene Lotus Temple, a gift to the city from the Bahai community. On your way to the Lotus Temple, you will pass the Moolchand Metro Station; it's where you will find Moolchand Paranthewaala, one of the best restaurants in Delhi for your fix of, crisp, stuffed paranthas. Also, visit the Qutub Minar, the 73-metre tall pillar that is a defining feature of the Capital's skyline. Moving back up north, visit Dilli Haat, your one-stop shop for handicraft items in the city, and the Lodi Gardens, a posh park that contains the tombs of rulers Sikander Lodi and Muhammed Shah. The garden complex also has Lodi - The Garden Restaurant, a posh, al fresco restaurant that serves Mediterranean food.

Day 3 New Delhi

 Hotel Tavisha Hotel Or Similar

 Visit the famous Red Fort.

Like Day 2, you will be picked up from your hotel in a chauffeur-driven car for a sightseeing tour of Old Delhi. Head first to the iconic Red Fort, the former residence of the Mughal rulers. Later, explore the area for its street food - delicious paranthas, tangy chaat and an array of Mughlai dishes.

Day 4 Delhi - Agra

 Hotel Usha Kiran Hotel & Towers Or Similar

 Drive from the hotel in New Delhi to the hotel in Agra.

Your rental car will be delivered to you at the hotel. After breakfast, check out of the hotel and head to Agra. The 213 km long drive from New Delhi to Agra is an absolute breeze, thanks to the Yamuna Expressway. The eight-lane highway is butter smooth, and you will not realise the four hours that have elapsed since you left New Delhi. Pit stops are few and far between, so snacks and water should be kept handy. Once you reach Agra, check-in to your hotel.

Day 5 Agra

 Hotel Usha Kiran Hotel & Towers Or Similar

 Visit the world famous Taj Mahal.

The second day at Agra is solely meant for you to experience the marvellous Taj Mahal. After breakfast, drive to the Taj; you will be taken for a guided tour around the monument. Note: If possible, visit Agra on a full-moon night, when the Taj can be seen in all its splendour, shimmering in the moonlight.

Day 6 Agra - Lucknow

 Hotel Genx Casaya Inn Or Similar

 Drive from the hotel in Agra to the hotel in Lucknow.

Your drive today to Lucknow is through the sprawling six-lane Lucknow-Agra Expressway. Like the Yamuna Expressway, this is one of the smoothest roads to drive on in the country and you will munch the miles without breaking a sweat. Check-in to the hotel in Lucknow by afternoon, and settle in for the day.

Day 7 Lucknow - Varanasi

 Hotel City Inn Varanasi Or Similar

 Drive from the hotel in Lucknow to the hotel in Varanasi.

Check out of your hotel and drive to Varanasi via NH30 and NH19. The roads, albeit smooth, are a four-lane affair and not as wide as the expressways you have gotten used to so far. Also, this stretch doesn't have many pit-stops or food-courts, so keep some snacks and water handy. Check-in to the hotel in Varanasi and relax for the day.

 Explore Varanasi on a city tour.

The chief temples of the holy city are located within 5 km of each other. Start with the Sankat Mochan Temple that is dedicated to Lord Hanuman. A short walk from here takes you to the Tulsi Manas Temple. This is where the Devnagari version of the Ramayan was written, which made the epic tale accessible to the masses; earlier, the Ramayan was only understandable and accessible to the Sanskrit-speaking elite. In addition to its historical significance, the temple's architecture and design are stunning. Next on the list is Kashi Vishwanath, the chief temple of Varanasi. It is one of the twelve jyotirlingas (prime Shiva Temples), that are spread across India. One of the highlights of the temple is its dome, which is plated in gold. Kashi Vishwanath is located next to the river Ganga, and is close to the Dasashwamedha Ghat, the main ghat (stairway to a river) in Varanasi. The word Dasashwamedha refers to a ceremony where ten horses were sacrificed, in this case, by Lord Brahma, to welcome Lord Shiva to Varanasi. You must catch the Ganga aarthi that takes place every evening at the ghats of Varanasi.
